Alas poor Zorick, I knew him swell," says our cool Ghoul.

Anita London just got a role in a TV horror show and feels that she's too thin. She is fattening up those curves on a special diet her friend Witch Hazel, gave to her. Seven shrunken heads a day!

GHOULING AROUND

The name of the show is "Nightmare Rally," and Anita plays an actress who makes a big comeback—right from the cemetery! "It's a grave undertaking," says she, "especially since we are doing the program live. The director says that no matter how good your set's reception is, you're bound to get ghosts. In fact, the whole plot is being televised ghost to ghost!"